There is no alternative to hardwork for success: CM

Dispur, December 9: Chief Minister Sarbananda Sonowal said, "Success comes through struggle and there is no alternative to hardwork for being successful in life". He said this while inaugurating the pre-examination coaching for civil services examination 2019-20 for the aspirants of tea tribe community in a programme held at Assam Administrative Staff College in Guwahati today. The pre-examination coaching, which is being organized for the third consecutive year by the Tea Tribe Welfare Department of the State government will continue for six months. Altogether 50 students have been selected for the coaching from 210 applicants.

Chief Minister Sonowal said that today is the age of competition where success depends on hardwork, dedication and committed efforts. He said that the tea tribe community which is known for hardwork has the potential to march ahead successfully in today's competitive world. He exuded confidence that the selected students would give justice to the faith reposed in their abilities.

Stating that it is the most opportune time for the tea tribe community to walk past the years of neglect and apathy, he observed that education has the power for empowerment and the youth of the tea tribe community would make the best use of education to shine in life. Chief Minister Sonowal also said success of the selected students in their life would inspire lakhs of students of the community in the days to come.

The Chief Minister also stressed on maintaining good health and positive energy throughout life to be happy and successful. He also advised the students to make judicious use of social media and not waste time on unproductive activities.

MLA Terash Gowalla and Principal Secretary of the department Dr. JB Ekka also delivered speech on the occasion. While Director of Tea Tribe Welfare Palash Ranjan Gharphalia delivered the welcome address, the inaugural programme was also attended by MLAs Rituparna Baruah and Chakradhar Gogoi, vice chairman of Assam Government Marketing Board Shiva Prasad Bhadra among others.
